Popcorn Signage Overview

Signage is a powerful communication medium, many times it's the first visual experience a customer has with your business. It can be the most effective way of attracting customers and building the success and identity of your business.

Signage can establish and highlight your brand's perception becoming one of the most important visual aspects of your business and an extremely effective communication tool.

Popcorn Signs can provide your business with varying levels of service depending on your requirements. Whether you need your signage designed, supplied or installed or all of these services combined Popcorn Signs can assist and we will endeavour to make the process as seamless and as cost effective as possible.

Signage Technology

At Popcorn Signs we have invested in the best digital print equipment. The Roland VS640 allows Popcorn to have the leading worldwide provider of wide format printers and print cut machines for professional high quality graphics & signage.

At 1625mm wide the VS-640 is the largest and most versatile print/cut machine to date and sets a new standard for the signage and print industry. The colour library includes a range of metallic and pearlescent colours allowing the end user to add luxurious metallic effects to all printed material. Popcorn is proud to have one of the few machines of it's kind in Australia.

We also have access to a large range of sign equipment from Flat Bed Printers to Wide Format Laminators so that we can successfully meet your requirements.
